16 Matt Moriarty for Ameridose.

17 THE COURT: Good afternoon, all. We are 18 joined, as usual, by a number of lawyers on the 19 telephone. I have the agenda in front of me, the 02:03PM 20 proposed agenda which I guess I propose to follow. You
21 all have received my order and memorandum on the motion 22 to transfer cases. We'll get to that in due course, but 23 let me hear first on item Number 1, which is the status 24 of proposed case management order, protective orders and 25 medical release.

1 Ms. Parker.

2 MS. PARKER: Good afternoon, your Honor, the 3 plaintiffs' steering committee along with the creditors' 4 committee have been working diligently with the 5 defendants in this matter to put together a 6 comprehensive case management order that would address, 7 among other things, discovery, filing of master 8 complaints as well as possibly tolling agreements and 9 mediation or settlement protocols for un affiliated 02:04PM 10 defendants, referring to defendants other than NECC.

11 We had a very productive meet and confer 12 this morning, your Honor. I believe that we have 13 resolved the vast majority of our disagreements on that,
14 and we look forward to presenting a case management 15 order to you shortly.

16 It is our hopes to have that case management 17 order filed on Friday. We understand that your Honor is 18 away for the next several weeks, and so we're trying to 19 get that to you quickly. It is possible that in order 02:04PM 20 to do that, we may wind up filing competing proposals on 21 particular paragraphs. We hope that that will not be 22 the case. That case management order goes hand-in-hand 23 with two protective orders that the parties are working 24 on.

25 The first is a qualified protective order to

1 deal with information that is privileged under -- 2 protected under HIPAA, the health insurance -- let's see 3 if I can do it, the Health Insurance Portability Act.

4 THE COURT: HIPAA.

5 MS. PARKER: Close enough, sorry, and also 6 various state law provisions that protect health
7 information. We intend to put before you an agreed upon 8 order that is the type of order that has been entered in 9 other MDLs to deal with protected healthcare information 02:05PM 10 and to explain why we're pushing that order now, your 11 Honor.

12 As we have described, I believe, to the 13 Court at the last status conference, the plaintiff
14 steering committee is ready to serve subpoenas on pain 15 clinics asking them for information about their 16 purchases and interactions with NECC as well as the 17 names of individuals who received NECC products.

18 We are not asking for medical records from 19 those entities. We are, however, asking for names of 02:05PM 20 patients that received products. Because that 21 information would be covered under HIPAA, we are asking 22 that the Court enter a protective order that would 23 specifically deal with how that information is produced 24 and where it is stored.

25 The idea is to identify a HIPAA compliant

1 vendor that we have issued requests for qualifications
2 in that regard and to have all of the information 3 produced to the HIPAA-compliant vendor where it would be 4 held in a black box pending further order of this Court.

5 One of the purposes for collecting all of 6 that information has to do ultimately with ensuring that 7 notices provided to claimants of the bankruptcy. There 8 are other purposes in collecting that information as 9 well, which go to establishing the liability of NECC as 02:06PM 10 well as the pain clinics and other potential defendants.

11 So from the plaintiffs' perspective, the 12 qualified protective order is a necessary prerequisite 13 to having the pain clinics produce information in 14 response to our subpoena discovery efforts.

15 Now, the meet and confer with the defendants 16 on this has been very positive. I don't believe we've 17 had any serious significant concerns raised by any of 18 the defendants about this particular proposed order, but 19 I understand that the defendants are going to get back 02:07PM 20 to us hopefully shortly with any further comments, and 21 it is our hope that we file that order, the qualified 22 protective order, by Thursday.

23 THE COURT: All right. In terms of my own
24 schedule, I am going to be in Washington next week. I 25 will be on vacation the week after that. My enthusiasm

1 for working on things will be higher when I am in 2 Washington than when I'm on vacation, and if it really 3 is agreed to, and I have a chance to read it, I can get 4 it out fairly quickly. Obviously, the fewer disputes, 5 the easier it will be for me to do that, but I will do 6 my best.

7 MS. PARKER: One final comment, as 8 contemplated in the case management order, there would 9 be an opportunity for anyone who objected to the 02:08PM 10 subpoena and the information requested in the subpoena
11 to appear before this Court to lodge any objections 12 thereto, so simply because we have a qualified 13 protective order in place does not necessarily mean that 14 we will in fact wind up receiving all of that 15 information, or put differently, there's an opportunity 16 for everyone to object.

17 THE COURT: All right. Who wants to take 18 the lead for the defense in responding?

19 MR. FERN: I'll be glad to.

02:08PM 20 THE COURT: Mr. Fern.

21 MR. FERN: Thank you, your Honor. Not much
22 to add to what Ms. Parker has shared with the Court.
23 The qualified protective order I do not believe there
24 will be much in controversy there, and Thursday filing 25 should be quite possible. Again, we -- that is more so

1 to protect the plaintiffs and the various healthcare 2 providers to whom those subpoenas are being served.
3 NECC and what we call the affiliated defendants really 4 do not have much influence or input into those 5 responses.

6 As to the protective order, we have 7 negotiated an informal discovery demand with the 8 steering committee. That is being worked on. My office
9 has people going through those documents, reviewing them 02:09PM 10 for various privileges that might apply. As soon as the 11 protective order can be agreed upon, submitted to the 12 Court to be so ordered, then we will start the rolling 13 production of documents. That will, for the most part, 14 allow the PSC to identify what they call the national 15 defendants, the potential defendants who were involved 16 with work at NECC as well as state specific defendant of 17 various healthcare providers who provided the injections 18 to the individuals in their home states.

19 So that protective order should be back by 02:10PM 20 the end of the week, assuming that we can agree on it 21 with the steering committee. Again, you should see that 22 early next week I anticipate, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: All right. Does anyone want to 24 be heard on that topic, anyone from the plaintiffs' side 25 of the house? From the defense? Trustees, any other

1 interested observers? All right. Good. Topic 2, 2 Ms. Parker.

3 MS. PARKER: So we've covered the CMO, your 4 Honor. In terms of the mediation order, the plaintiffs 5 are drafting, and, again we'll meet and confer with the 6 defendants as appropriate as to a mediation program or 7 protocol that would pertain to the unaffiliated 8 defendants, meaning defendants other than those that are 9 affiliated with NECC.

02:10PM 10 I'm not going to promise the timing on that, 11 your Honor, but I will say that it is something we are 12 actively working through and we hope to have to you very 13 soon.

14 THE COURT: All right. Anyone want to be 15 heard on that topic?

16 MR. MOLTON: Your Honor, David Molton for 17 the respective creditors' committee. I just want to 18 place that in context. As your Honor knows, the 19 affiliated defendants are presently engaged in 02:11PM 20 settlement discussions with the trustee pursuant to the 21 bankruptcy court-entered protocol.

22 What the mediation order as contemplated by 23 the CMO -- and there will be a provision in the CMO that 24 will discuss that and provide a time frame for 25 delivering a proposed order to your Honor -- does is

1 provide the analog to that consensual set resolution 2 mechanism that's being utilized by the trustee, but this 3 time in terms of the nonaffiliated defendants, and 4 hopefully it will provide incentives for nonaffiliated
5 defendants, unaffiliated defendants, to join in a 6 mediation program that can quickly and expeditiously 7 bring everybody to possible resolution.

8 THE COURT: All right. Item 3, status of 9 discovery efforts. Ms. Parker.

02:12PM 10 MS. PARKER: So the plaintiffs have prepared 11 subpoenas that are ready to go out, your Honor. As I 12 mentioned, we're waiting for the entry of a qualified 13 protective order. I say waiting. That's on us to 14 submit it to you, certainly not waiting for the Court.

15 There is one issue that I wanted to preview
16 with you there. As contemplated in the case management 17 order, there would be -- let me back up. The plaintiffs 18 intend to issue all of these subpoenas out of the MDL
19 and believe that they would all be centrally enforceable
02:12PM 20 by this Court in this district.

21 We have contemplated two things in that 22 regard. The first is to submit to your Honor a simple 23 motion that asks you to enter an order that instructs 24 that any objections to the subpoenas should be filed in 25 this district before this Court, and that motion will

1 provide some of the legal authority for your Honor to do
2 that, but I will note that these are all depositions, 3 I'm sorry, these are all subpoenas that are seeking 4 depositions of recordkeepers as well as documents to be 5 produced.

6 And as such, we believe that there's no
7 dispute that that falls within your Honor's ability to 8 centrally conduct discovery as embodied in the statute 9 that actually created the judicial panel on 02:13PM 10 multi-district litigation as well as the transferee
11 court's responsibilities. We hope to have that to you 12 shortly.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MS. PARKER: The second issue to preview
15 there is we wondered whether or not the Court would want 16 to set now a time to hear any objections to those 17 subpoenas that are issued. The idea would be to provide 18 notice to the defendants as we send out the subpoenas 19 that the date of a hearing or a date by which any 02:13PM 20 objections should be filed. We would suggest that we 21 certainly could do this at the next status conference, 22 which is scheduled for July 18th.

23 We also think the timing contemplated, if 24 you give a two-week opportunity to object to the 25 subpoenas, it may be appropriate to have a hearing

1 around the first week of July.

2 THE COURT: All right. The only issue
3 there, that depends on a number of things happening, the 4 CMO being in place, a subpoena going out, my granting 5 this motion concerning the venue or jurisdiction for 6 enforcing them. It seems to me that July 18th is 7 probably the right date. If your question is what date 8 should be typed in so that things are lined up and ready 9 to go, I would type in July 18th.

02:14PM 10 MS. PARKER: Excellent, thank you, your 11 Honor.

12 THE COURT: I think it is optimistic to do
13 it before that. Why don't we handle it that way.
14 Anything else on the discovery efforts, Ms. Parker?

15 MS. PARKER: No, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Anything else on discovery from 17 any other defendant or other interested party?
18 Mr. Fern, anything to add?

19 MR. FERN: Nothing to add, thank you.

02:15PM 20 THE COURT: Topic 4 is procedure for 21 transferring state cases pursuant to my order, which I 22 left, as you know, open-ended. I guess there are 23 several subparts, the first is which precise cases at 24 this point are subject to the order and what, if 25 anything, I need to do to effectuate the transfer of 1 those cases I have ordered transferred.

2 MR. FERN: Judge, I'm glad to report that 3 there are no such cases currently pending transfer where 4 one of the affiliated defendants are party together with 5 a local healthcare provider. We have a number of cases 6 that are in state court that you are aware of from our 7 last hearing in Tennessee and in Virginia.

8 There is one case, the Stewart case that is 9 in Alabama which we removed from state court. That was 02:16PM 10 a remand motion to be heard yesterday in that court, and 11 we basically, the papers we submitted were a copy of 12 your memo and order advising the Court that you had 13 ordered that case should be removed and brought here.

14 I assume that that Federal Court Judge will 15 abide by your prior order. Other than that, there are 16 no other cases that are currently pending which would be 17 subject to the order for transfer here.

18 THE COURT: Just to make it clear if I
19 didn't in my opinion, this is obviously a dynamic 02:16PM 20 situation in the sense that the lineup may change in a 21 particular case particularly, and I don't know how it's 22 going to play out, obviously, but if, for example, there 23 is some kind of bar date or something that prompts 24 actions in some of these cases where unaffiliated
25 defendants decide that they do want to make a

1 contribution on an indemnity claim against an affiliated 2 defendant, that may change the mix, but I'm going to 3 take this as they come, if they come.

4 So I think I hear you saying, Mr. Fern, that 5 at this point there's nothing for me to do?

6 MR. FERN: That's correct, Judge.

7 THE COURT: Music to my ears. Ms. Parker, 8 do you have any reason to disagree with that?

9 MS. PARKER: No, your Honor, I don't.

02:17PM 10 THE COURT: I do need to clear up for my 11 opinion, ARL Bio Pharma was unhappy that I listed them 12 as an affiliated entity. I will grant the motion to 13 correct my memorandum and order and issue a corrected 14 order by deleting the reference to ARL, which I think is 15 in footnote 1.

16 Anything else on that topic generally?
17 Ms. Parker.

18 MS. PARKER: No, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Mr. Fern.

02:18PM 20 MR. FERN: No, Judge. When the situation 21 does arise, we've looked at this, and I don't believe we 22 even have to take that case and do a tag-along to the 23 JPML and then have a CTO issued. Based upon your order, 24 if that case can get removed to Federal Court either by 25 ourselves, if we are a party, or by the local healthcare

1 provider, it is hopeful that by providing a copy of your 2 decision to the Judge in that jurisdiction, that case
3 could be transferred here directly into the MDL.

4 Hopefully we can do that via cross-findings. If the 5 situation arises where we need the Court's assistance, 6 then we will take that next step.

7 THE COURT: All right. Does the trustee
8 want to weigh in on this, Mr. Gottfried?

9 MR. GOTTFRIED: Yes, we agreed with 02:18PM 10 everything else that's been said so far essentially.
11 There are no pending cases that we're aware of that 12 would be subject to your order that are not presently 13 here. We think this really is an issue with respect to 14 future cases, and it's our hope that certainly if it's a 15 case that we're directly involved in, we'll remove it 16 pursuant to your order, and we would expect that given 17 notice, the healthcare provider would do the same 18 subject to the categories of your order.

19 THE COURT: All right. Good, good, good.

02:19PM 20 Item 6.

21 MS. PARKER: So in the process of attempting 22 to -- this really is the defendant's issue. I'll 23 explain how I believe it is HIPPA written. In the 24 process of attempting to meet and confer with defendants 25 about proposed case management orders, we have realized

1 that it may make some sense to appoint a liaison for the 2 defendant groups, the unaffiliated defendant groups, let 3 me put it that way.

4 Now, the PSC does not have a position as to 5 whether there should be one additional liaison for the 6 national defendants and one additional liaison for the 7 pain clinics and health provider defendants, but we do 8 think it makes sense to have someone who occupies a 9 liaison role that we can reach out to and speak with in 02:20PM 10 the process of doing these things, and that is not 11 necessarily someone who would bind all of the defendants 12 but at minimum someone that we could reach out to who 13 could collect comments from those defendants and 14 interface with the plaintiffs' steering committee.

15 THE COURT: Remind me who I appointed as 16 state federal liaison because I've forgotten and don't 17 have it in front of me.

18 MS. PARKER: That's Mark Chalos, your Honor.
19 He is not with us today.

02:20PM 20 THE COURT: Okay. Is that a role that he 21 could fulfill or is that not appropriate?

22 MS. PARKER: Well, the idea, your Honor, 23 was --

24 THE COURT: This is liaison counsel, meaning 25 someone from -- well, you tell me. Go ahead. This is

1 not someone actually representing the affiliated 2 defendants or do I have that backwards?

3 MS. PARKER: We were suggesting that it
4 would be defense counsel for the defendants.

5 THE COURT: I'm sorry. So you have one
6 phone call to make, in other words?

7 MS. PARKER: Correct.

8 THE COURT: Then the question is how does 9 that process come about? I don't have -- at least my 02:21PM 10 belief is to the extent that there are defendants in 11 state cases, I don't have jurisdiction over them, but 12 presumably there are several who are named in cases over 13 which I do have jurisdiction, in other words, it's not a 14 coterminous set, right?

15 MS. PARKER: That's correct, your Honor.
16 There are, as I understand it, pain clinics that are 17 currently defendants in this MDL, although I concede I 18 don't have my service list in front of me, so I can't 19 tell you which.

02:21PM 20 MR. FERN: Judge.

21 THE COURT: Go ahead.

22 MR. FERN: This may not require action
23 today. I think it's a topic that we're bringing to the 24 Court's attention as we are negotiating the CMO
25 regarding discovery of nonaffiliated defendants as well

1 as discovery of the national defendants, from which I 2 spoke about before, it would be appropriate that they 3 have some input into the process on the CMO and future 4 CMOs as they are submitted to the Court, so this is 5 probably not ripe for today, but it was put on the 6 agenda to bring it to the Court's attention, so this 7 may, and Mr. Coren on behalf of the PSC had, I thought, 8 a very intelligent idea this morning that there might be 9 one liaison on behalf of the state defendants, all the 02:22PM 10 pain clinics and then another liaison on behalf of the 11 national defendants who would be more localized who had 12 done work or vendors at NECC.

13 If the Court goes that way and selects two 14 liaison counsels, then in addition to myself and 15 Mr. Moriarty and Ms. Nadel and others, this may then 16 turn into, Judge, as we have a plaintiffs' steering 17 committee, we may want to organize a defendants' 18 steering committee so everyone is on the same page and 19 we're able to coordinate our efforts on the defense side 02:23PM 20 of the table.

21 THE COURT: All right. It sounds in the 22 abstract like a good idea, and perhaps having two 23 liaison counsel, because they are somewhat differently 24 situated, the local vendors and so forth as opposed to 25 state or regional pain clinics or healthcare providers,

1 but I'll leave it, I will entertain any reasonable
2 proposal, and I'll leave it at that for now.

3 Anything further on that topic? Ms. Parker.

4 MS. PARKER: No, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: All right. Status of bankruptcy
6 proceedings.

7 MS. PARKER: I was going to direct it to the 8 trustee.

9 MR. GOTTFRIED: Well, here I am. Your 02:23PM 10 Honor, I want to report to you that Mr. Moore is 11 continuing to negotiate with so-called affiliated 12 defendants, believes that that process is progressing, 13 that he has requested and is obtaining additional 14 information from them, and he is satisfied that that 15 process is moving forward appropriately.

16 He is continuing to administer the estate,
17 collect the accounting receivables. He continues to get 18 product returns, he is rejecting leases, and as you may 19 have noted last night, the U.S. Attorney's Office and 02:24PM 20 Mr. Moore's office, we agreed to a form of notice with 21 respect to the motion to modify the preservation order.

22 I don't know if you've had a chance to look 23 at that, but that is something that we did negotiate
24 with the U.S. Attorney's Office, and both are satisfied 25 with that proposed order and form of notice, so long as

1 the Court is.

2 THE COURT: I will grant that motion and 3 issue the order in the proposed form with the notice 4 attached.

5 MR. GOTTFRIED: Thank you, your Honor.

6 Then, lastly, I would simply just inform the Court,
7 nothing to be done today, that Mr. Moore is working on a 8 bar date motion, and that's something that he's in 9 process, having reflected on the Court's decision.

02:25PM 10 THE COURT: Where do matters stand with 11 regard to the individual officers and so forth, the 12 trustee's efforts in that regard to "clawback," if 13 that's the right word, various funds from the 14 individuals?

15 MR. GOTTFRIED: That is the subject matter, 16 at least in part, of the discussions that are ongoing, 17 and those individual defendants are represented in those 18 discussions.

19 THE COURT: All right. Anything further on 02:25PM 20 that topic?

21 While we're on the subject of affiliated 22 companies, I still have pending various motions to 23 dismiss by Alaunus, which it makes me nervous to have 24 motions -- "nervous" isn't the right word, anxious, 25 perhaps, to have motions pending for a long period of 1 time without a plan for resolving them.

2 I don't know if it makes sense to put that 3 toward the top of the agenda or not, but they're 4 12(b)(6) motions that ordinarily I would take up early 5 on in the case and decide yes or no. It may be folded 6 in with the issue of the master complaint.

7 Does someone want to take up the issue of 8 how I address that? Yes, sir.

9 MR. CIPORKIN: Yes, your Honor,
02:26PM 10 Ryan Ciporkin for Alaunus Pharmaceutical. Given the 11 status of the ongoing discussions between the trustee 12 and the affiliated defendants, where Alaunus is simply, 13 I think the word I used, "forbearing" on its motions to 14 dismiss for the time being, and we've already discussed
15 a provision in the CMO where there would be a temporary 16 stay on the response deadlines, which could be 17 terminated in the event that, you know, there would be 18 other conditions, but essentially the Court won't need 19 to take, excuse me, any action on the motions right now.

02:27PM 20 I'm not suggesting that the Court deny the 21 motions but just leave them on the docket for the time 22 being.

23 THE COURT: All right. I will leave that 24 where it is, and to the extent that I have been rolling 25 over response dates generally to complaints or motions

1 to dismiss, they'll be rolled over again to the next 2 status on July, is it, 18th?

3 THE CLERK: Yes.

4 THE COURT: I will have the clerk's note 5 reflect that as well so everyone is protected in that 6 regard.

7 MR. CIPORKIN: Thank you, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Anything else on that issue?

9 MS. ANDREWS: Your Honor --

02:27PM 10 THE COURT: Yes.

11 MS. ANDREWS: -- a short report from 12 counsel, Mr. Molton, who speaks for our committee, but 13 I'm going to go first this time. From the creditors'
14 committee, we want the Court to know that a Herculean 15 effort over the past two weeks has gone on merging the 16 interests and the personnel of the plaintiffs' steering 17 committee and the creditors' committee to align in a 18 very important way for the goals that are being rolled 19 out through CMO, very important people worked this 02:28PM 20 morning, Ms. Parker, Mr. Coren, others in the room, 21 attended a very long meeting with defense counsel and 22 made progress on one of the biggest case management
23 orders I have seen tackled in an MDL to get this case 24 moving quickly.

25 That's the report from our side that for

1 these interested parties, and we represent all 2 creditors, that the cost saving of this type of work for 3 the creditors and victims of this case is enormous, and 4 we're looking forward to getting this case management 5 order out to you very quickly.

6 THE COURT: Thank you, I appreciate that.

7 Number 8, product identification.

8 MR. FERN: Judge --

9 THE COURT: Mr. Fern.

02:29PM 10 MR. FERN: -- Number 8 and 9 on the agenda
11 basically can be dealt with simultaneously. The Court
12 has spoken numerous times since our first appearance 13 before you regarding identification of the product that 14 the claimants were exposed to. The only way that's 15 going to happen, Judge, is to have access to the 16 plaintiffs' medical records to confirm that they were 17 injected with an NECC compounded product within I'll say 18 the appropriate time frame.

19 I think the plaintiffs' side will disagree
02:29PM 20 with me on the time frame, and there is also some 21 disagreement as to whether or not we are looking at 22 methylprednisolone acetate only or whether we are 23 looking at other products, whether they be cardioplegic, 24 sulphamic, but we'll leave that for another day.

25 I have taken on the responsibility, and I

1 had obtained a number of proposals from I think three 2 different national corporations who will agree to gather 3 the records for us, and this would be a joint effort.

4 The beauty of this, Judge, both the 5 plaintiffs and the defendants would have access to the 6 records in order to minimize the cost to both the estate 7 and the plaintiffs' side. The records would then be put 8 online to be worked out as to how and who would have 9 access via password, and the cost sharing would also be 02:30PM 10 worked out.

11 I have submitted those three proposals to 12 the plaintiffs' steering committee. I hope that they've 13 been shared with other members of the committee. I'm 14 waiting for word back. I thought this was the best way
15 to go, having been involved in doing this in other MDLs, 16 including in Vioxx, there was a sharing of medical 17 records.

18 In another case I'm involved with, another 19 MDL I'm involved with in New Jersey, we have shared the 02:31PM 20 medical records, though we only have 191 cases before 21 the Court at the moment, and we anticipate hundreds 22 more, I was of the opinion -- and I may be the only 23 one -- that there's no reason why not to get started on 24 this effort now and not wait for the deluge of multiple 25 cases to be filed in anticipation of the bar date.

1 THE COURT: And, again, just to restate, you
2 know, what I was trying to communicate is these records
3 are what they are. They exist. One way or another 4 they're going to have to be collected somehow at some 5 point no matter what the forum is. The plaintiff will 6 have to come forward, and the defendants will have to 7 access what is the evidence that they were exposed to an 8 NECC product and what injury resulted from that, and I 9 didn't see any reason to hold off on that particularly.

02:31PM 10 If we could make headway on it, and as long 11 as you all are paying attention to it, what Mr. Fern 12 proposes may or may not be the right approach, but I 13 don't see any particular reason for delay because even 14 with "only 191 cases," there's still a lot of work to be 15 done, I would assume a lot of medical providers and so 16 forth, you know, where medical records have to be 17 collected, releases have to be executed and so on. I'm 18 sure there's work that needs to be done.

19 MR. FERN: Judge, if we can, I will continue 02:32PM 20 to negotiate with the steering committee. We will 21 select, hopefully, a vendor or have further negotiations
22 with a vendor to get to a price that we are both content 23 with and see if we could start that process, which would 24 then require also negotiating on a form of release on 25 authorization that would then have the vendor's name to 1 be receiving all of the records. They would have the 2 originals. They would be scanned, they would be made 3 available to both sides simultaneously. There would be 4 no analysis, it would just be the pure records online 5 available to both sides at sharing of the cost.

6 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Parker, do you
7 want to weigh in here?

8 MS. PARKER: From the plaintiffs' steering
9 committee's perspective, your Honor, there is no 02:33PM 10 question that the product identification records and 11 medical records will need to be produced in this MDL.

12 We also have no objection in principle to 13 sharing medical records with the defendants, assuming 14 that we can iron that out and come to a workable 15 arrangement. We have Mr. Fern's proposals, and we will 16 review those and get back to him. Mr. Fern asked the 17 question, Why not get started now? I'd like to speak to 18 that for a moment, if I may.

19 THE COURT: Okay.

02:33PM 20 MS. PARKER: We know that these information
21 have to be produced. We know that they will be produced 22 in the context of a bankruptcy bar date. We know the 23 claimants will be required to provide that information 24 a, hopefully, short time down the road. The reason that 25 we may or may not want to do it now has to do with cost,

02:34PM

1 and that is both the cost of producing the records but 2 also for counsel in reviewing the records, for 3 contacting clients to walk them through the process of 4 all of this, and no one is suggesting that those costs 5 would be inappropriate, but we do come from the 6 perspective of recognizing that this is a limited fund 7 case and that the plaintiffs' steering committee and 8 others, the creditors' committee -- I won't speak for 9 the trustee or the defendants -- but certainly we're 10 all, I think, working on the assumption that we want to 11 maximize the return to the plaintiffs in a limited fund 12 scenario.

02:35PM

13 From our perspective, we appreciate the 14 defendants who are electing to litigate cases as opposed 15 to those defendants who were involved in the trustee 16 settlement process may want to push aggressively for 17 medical records now so as to be able to litigate those 18 cases. We don't understand, to be frank, the need from 19 NECC's perspective to request this information now. We 20 expect it will be produced shortly in relation to the 21 bar date motion.

22 THE COURT: All right. I don't intend to 23 micromanage this until I need to. I express no opinion 24 as to whether it's desirable to do it now, tomorrow or 25 the day after tomorrow or as to what format it has to be

1 done in. I'm content to hear at this point that you are 2 both actively considering the issue and take into 3 account, as I think you should, various factors 4 including the fact that this has to be done inevitably, 5 but you also want to minimize cost and inconvenience,
6 and presumably you do need to prioritize something, 7 whatever that thing is.

8 I'll leave it at this point to your 9 collective judgment and negotiation as to how to 02:35PM 10 proceed. I'm going to leave it at that for the time 11 being.

12 MS. PARKER: Thank you.

13 THE COURT: All right. Is that it? Are 14 there other things that we need to talk about?
15 Ms. Parker.

16 MS. PARKER: I was remiss in not listing the 17 preservation order issues on today's agenda, but I 18 believe Mr. Gottfried has addressed those.

19 MR. GOTTFRIED: Yes, thank you.

02:36PM 20 MS. PARKER: The only other issue that I'd 21 bring to the Court's attention is really a plea from the 22 plaintiffs' steering committee, which is perhaps your 23 Honor could mention in his minute order that all counsel 24 for defendants whose cases are now in the MDL should 25 enter a notice of appearance so that we are then able to

1 track them and find them and include them in our 2 negotiations.

3 THE COURT: So ordered.

4 MS. PARKER: Thank you.

5 THE COURT: And if there are any other 6 management-type details like that that need to be 7 addressed, don't hesitate to raise them. You can 8 contact Mr. Cicolini, you don't need to wait for our 9 monthly status conferences. That is exactly the kind of 02:37PM 10 thing that will drive all of us crazy if we aren't 11 paying close attention and crossing the Ts and dotting 12 the Is.

13 Every counsel representing a party has to 14 enter an appearance. We need to have a master list. We 15 need to know who is in, who is not, who represents what 16 party and so on. It will be utterly unworkable if we 17 don't have that accurate and up-to-date information.

18 Anything else from the plaintiffs?

19 MS. PARKER: No, thank you, your Honor.

02:37PM 20 THE COURT: From the creditors' committee?

21 MR. COREN: No, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Trustee?

23 MR. GOTTFRIED: Nothing further, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Any defense counsel?

25 MR. MORIARTY: Just one item, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Yes.

2 MR. MORIARTY: In the way of expectation
3 management, we've been talking a lot about the CMO 4 today. It was 22 pages long in its draft. What we have 5 found in the meet and confer process is that some of 6 those are more urgent than others and some require more 7 work than others, so what you may actually get is CMO1 8 and then followed by --

9 THE COURT: I think CMO, I think we're up to 02:38PM 10 No. 7 or 9.

11 MR. MORIARTY: Several other shorter ones.

12 THE COURT: Put the right number on it, 13 okay, yes.

14 MR. MORIARTY: So you may get these in a 15 sequence, I just wanted you to know so you weren't 16 expecting some tome at the beginning.

17 THE COURT: That's fine as well. I would 18 rather resolve those issues that can be resolved 19 quickly, and if we need to defer on others, that's fine, 02:38PM 20 too. All right.

21 (Discussion held off the record.)

22 Mr. Cicolini was just telling me that if 23 every attorney has entered an appearance, that means 24 every time we do anything, we have to send notifications 25 to every attorney, and the system bogs down. One might

1 think in 2013 we could handle a data problem like this,
2 but I think we need to have everyone enter an 3 appearance. It may be that we provide notice in some 4 different way, maybe through liaison counsel. There may 5 be other ways that we handle this. If I have to issue
6 an order to expedite matters, I will, but I do think 7 it's important that we know which lawyers represent 8 which parties and that we have a record of that.

9 All right. I think our next meeting is 02:39PM 10 July 18th. Did I schedule one beyond that?

11 THE CLERK: Yes, August 9th.

12 THE COURT: What about for September?

13 THE CLERK: Not yet.

14 THE COURT: Why don't we find a date in 15 September before it gets all clogged up.

16 THE CLERK: September 12th at 2:00.

17 THE COURT: September 12th at 2:00. The 18 Jewish holidays are unusually early this year. When 19 does Yom Kippur start, on the sundown on the 12th?

02:40PM 20 MR. FERN: On the evening of the 13th.

21 THE COURT: It starts the 13th?

22 MR. FERN: The evening of the 13th.

23 THE COURT: So the 12th is okay?

24 MR. FERN: Yes.

25 THE COURT: September 12th at 2:00. We'll

1 put that in the calendar as well. Anyone else want to 2 be heard on any other topic? All right. Thank you, 3 all.

4 MS. PARKER: Thank you, your Honor.

5 MR. FERN: Thank you, Judge.

6 (Whereupon, the hearing was adjourned at 7 2:40 p.m.)
